There was never a 'by-line' for this article, but in light of Al Tostado's November 5th, 1967 article, I am positive this individual wrote this article. The discovery of this crucial piece of information was made on Friday, June 2, 2006 by Bigfooter Daniel Perez. Part of this article reads, "The writer jested that these sizes put him..." [Roger Knights' observation, Seattle, Washington] "Him" is the key word, clearly indicating the reporter was male. Andrew Genzoli's widow, Betty, told me in person and by letter the article never had the look and feel of her late husband. Her observation proved correct).
